AS A MANUE STURER.

How Fast the South Has Advanced and is Advancing.

But fast as the country at large has advanced as a manufacturer in the last three decades, the general in The big sales of town lots in Salem was looked forward to by investors and capitalists all over the country and when the day arrived they thronged the streets and hotels. per cent. on the average, while mining spinning and lumber have probably grown 1600 or 1800 per cent. in that period. These industries in the South have come up from very -mall affairs to something that in the aggregate is immense. The South now makes more pig iron than the whole country made in 1860, and within a fraction of the to-tal output of the United States in 1870 which was 1.850,000 tons, just as much as the States of Virginia, Tenn. Georgia and Alambama will produce in 1890, and only 500,000 more than these States made in 1889. At the rate the iron product of the South has increased since 1885, it will reach 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 gross tons in 1900. and within twenty years it will equal the nation's product in 1890. The the nation's product in 1800. The cotton textile trade, the lumber trade and coal mining have quite kept pace with the iron trade or surpassed it in rate of growth. Judging the future by the past twenty years, one would be quite safe in predicting that the child is born who will see the South far ahead of the East or North of today, as a manufacturer of almost of today. of today, as a manufacturer of almost every product of skill. This may read like an optimistic dream to those who have given the matter no thought, but to the men who have been part of the South's advance in the last decade, the prophecy will be rather a conservative than a wild Katie Conway.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE DRUMMER. How He "Takes In" the New Boom Towns.

Our correspondent at Buchanan

Sam Pearson and Sam Casey were arrested yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock by Officer Creasy. They had in their possession a number of fowls which the officer did not believe they had come by honestly. Although not engaged in the business of raising chickens, it is alleged that they have lately been offering some very fine Plymouth Rock fowls for sale as well as a number of other choice breeds. They were taken to jail to be held there until the matter can be fully investigated.

For weeks past strangers from various parts of the country have been visiting this ancient town to see what is the matter, and what is in all this. Men walk the streets with an air of profound observation that is very portentious; but in some instances it has been discovered that the face-tious drummer had been putting on the airs of a great capitalists, and stepping off lots and doing other things to make people think that he things to make people think that he was somebody.—Lynchburg Virginian.

Two important events will soon It is time for the Chamber of Commerce and leading citizens generally to make preparations for the proper reception for the distinguished visitors. The events referred to are the arrival of the delegates to the Pan-American Congress from their Southern tour. and the visit of the Massachusetts Press Association. The South American visitors will leave Nashville on a banquet on the occasion of their visit, and for that purpose Hon. H. S. Trout, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. O. Howard Royer, general freight and passenger agent of the Shenandoah Valley railroad com-pany, and a number of leading citizens will meet today to complete the necessary arrangements for carrying out the programme, and it is hoped that they will be liberally assisted by itizens generally in carrying out the plans. The Press Association will first arrive here from the East at 7:35 a. m., on the 13th of May and will leave at 10 o'clock the same morning for the South from which they will return on the 15th of May at 10:05 a. m., and will remain until 10 o'clock the next uorning, when they will leave for Lynchburg, going thence to Peters-ourg and Richmond. From the last named city they will proceed by steamer down the James river to Nor folk, going thence to Baltimore and the North.

The annual meeting of the stock-holders of the Norfolk and Western and Shenandoah Valley railroad companies, the Roanoke Machine Works and a number of other corporations will be held on the 7th of May, the same day set down for the arrival of the Pan-American visitors, and Roanoke will be crowded with listinguished strangers. YANKEE-REBEL CITIES.

The Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch, re ferring to an article in the Tallapoosa (Ga.)
